

Family Law Forensic Valuation Services

In divorce, the biggest hurdle may be ensuring that assets are divided fairly — which first requires an accurate inventory, valuation and consideration of future tax impacts. Weaver's forensic and litigation professionals can help you resolve issues in all of these areas.

Our team offers decades of experience in these complex financial issues, combined with credibility as expert witnesses. Working with Weaver's forensic accountants, you can help your clients achieve a fair outcome from their divorce proceedings.

How we can help:

► Tracing/Forensic Accounting

Especially after an extended marriage, financial histories become intertwined, and it can be hard to separate community from individual property. Weaver can analyze legal and financial records to determine which assets or liabilities should be divided and which should be protected.

► Valuation

Spouses who can agree on little else are unlikely to agree on the value of properties or businesses, especially with hard-to-value assets such as copyrights or patents. Weaver can determine fair and reasonable current values for such assets, supported by documentation that will stand up to challenges in court.

► Taxation

In structuring the division of assets and income streams, don't forget to consider tax implications. Weaver can analyze different scenarios and advise you on the most tax-efficient alternatives, even for complex trusts or partnerships.

Weaver's family law services include:

- Analyzing complex financial transactions and relationships
- Reconstructing missing or destroyed records
- Valuing assets, including complex corporate structures or alternative assets
- Performing holistic tax analyses to guide the structure of settlements
- Assisting counsel in evaluating financial claims or rebutting claims by opposing experts
- Identifying and obtaining relevant discovery material and information
- Conducting computer-assisted analysis of voluminous electronic data
- Preparing demonstrative trial exhibits and providing sworn testimony
- Tracing and capturing assets, especially those that have passed through trusts, related party transactions or offshore accounts

To learn how Weaver can assist in your family law cases, contact:

Jeff Matthews, CPA, CFE
Partner-in-Charge,
Forensics and Litigation Services
jeff.matthews@weaver.com
972.448.9280

Jacqueline Peterson, JD
Director,
Forensics and Litigation Services
jacqueline.peterson@weaver.com
972.448.6920

Dave Kirk, CPA, ABV, CFF
Senior Manager,
Forensics and Litigation Services
dave.kirk@weaver.com
972.448.6956