Weaver Promotes Adam McCane to Partner

DALLAS-FORT WORTH, Texas (March 14, 2013) Weaver, the largest independent accounting firm in the Southwest, announces the promotion of Adam McCane to partner in assurance services.

“We are pleased to promote Adam, a valued employee, to partner,” said Tommy D. Lawler, Weaver’s managing partner and CEO. “He has demonstrated strong leadership within Weaver and we have seen his skills and experience increase significantly during his time at the firm. We look forward to his continued leadership in the assurance service line and Fort Worth market.”

McCane has more than nine years of public accounting experience in audit and assurance services. His experience includes audit engagements for privately and publicly-held business enterprises in the financial services and oil and gas industries. McCane primarily works with financial entities including banks, hedge funds and other investment companies, as well as oil and gas exploration and production organizations and the public sector where he has provided audits of local city and county governments and school districts. He joined Weaver’s Fort Worth office in 2004 from Snow Garrett, a local accounting firm in Weatherford, Texas.

McCane is a member of AICPA, TSCPA and its Fort Worth chapter; the Government Finance Officers Association’s Special Review Committee and serves on the Board of Directors and Finance Committee for the Presbyterian Night Shelter of Tarrant County. He earned a Bachelor of Business, Accounting and Finance degree from Texas Christian University, instructs various continuing professional education accounting courses and has authored several articles for banking, education and accounting publications.
