Weaver Grows New York City Office with Addition of New Tax Partner, Charles Anastasia

HOUSTON, TEXAS (January 19, 2021) – National certified public accounting (CPA) and advisory firm Weaver, a top 35 firm in the United States, has added Charles Anastasia as tax partner in its New York City office. In his new role, Anastasia will serve as lead partner for the firm’s tax engagements with key clients along the East Coast.

Anastasia brings 25 years of experience in industry and public accounting, having served as a tax advisor to a myriad of businesses, opportunity funds, and REITs as well as family offices and individual business owners. With a focus in the real estate industry, he is highly skilled in matters related to income tax structuring, tax preparation, partnership taxation, succession planning and wealth protection strategies.

“We are thrilled to have Charlie join us in the New York City office where he will be instrumental in further building the Weaver brand in this key geographic market,” said CEO and Managing Partner John Mackel. “We have an exceptional tax team that is enhanced by Charlie’s strong reputation, knowledge and experience.”

In addition to holding several senior tax positions with publicly traded companies, Anastasia has served as a leader in Big Four and National CPA practices. This blend of private industry and public accounting experience allows him to offer clients a knowledgeable and practical perspective on tax strategy and compliance.

Anastasia is a Certified Public Accountant in the State of New York and earned a Bachelor of Business Administration in accounting, magna cum laude, from Baruch College, Zicklin School of Business where he is an acting adjunct professor of graduate studies in the real estate tax program.
