Weaver Continues Expansion of Health Care Practice with the Addition of Elliott Jeter, Managing Director

HOUSTON, TEXAS (October 27, 2020) –Weaver, the 35th largest public accounting and advisory firm in the United States, announced today that Elliott Jeter has joined the firm to expand its fast-growing national health care valuation practice. With nearly two decades of experience in health care valuation and transaction advisory services, Elliott will serve as managing director leading the health care valuation group.

Strengthening Weaver’s commitment to the health care sector, Elliott focuses on cultivating client relationships by providing valuation, transaction advisory and operational consulting to the health care services industry. His experience includes working directly with tax-exempt health systems, ambulatory surgery centers, urgent care centers, physician group practices, imaging centers, post-acute providers and other ancillary health care providers. Elliott will also lead Weaver’s health care research department, which will provide clients with key insights and industry intelligence.

“With our health care practice growing rapidly, Elliott’s background and understanding of this industry is increasingly valuable to our clients,” said CEO and Managing Partner, John Mackel. “His familiarity working with a wide variety of health care organizations, along with his experience in valuation, appraisal and advisory, are a tremendous benefit and we are delighted to have him on our team.”

“Bringing Elliott on board reflects Weaver’s commitment to building a best-in-class health care valuation and advisory team,” said Partner-in-Charge of Valuation Services, Curt Germany. “Health care is approaching one fifth of U.S. GDP and we expect the next decade to be a wild ride marked by heavy transaction volumes, shifting political and public policy landscapes, and increased competition for resources. Elliott’s experience will be a valuable resource for Weaver’s health care clients as they navigate this complex and challenging environment.”

Elliott is a Certified Public Accountant (CPA) and holds the Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) designation. A member of the Healthcare Financial Management Association and the Health Law Section of the American Bar Association, he is a frequent writer and speaker for various professional and industry organizations. Elliott earned a Bachelor of Business Administration degree from Texas A&M University and a Master of Business Administration from The University of Texas at Austin.
